

Goedwerk Foundation

Voluntary Return 6.0

What we do

What we do Goedwerk Foundation is an organization that supports and guides undocumented migrants in voluntary return to their country of origin. Since its foundation in 2012, we have helped more than 300 people with a successful and sustainable return.

For whom

We help undocumented migrants in the Netherlands who do not have legal residence and who wish to return voluntarily. People who do have a permit but are prepared to hand it in can also be assisted in their voluntary return. It does not matter what legal history someone has, it can be an asylum, B9, Article 64 or no legal procedure at all. Any person is welcome.

Support

Goedwerk Foundation supports people with voluntary return to their country of origin. This is always tailor-made. Every person and every situation is different. Goedwerk Foundation looks at the needs of the migrant and draws up a plan together. Depending on the needs, Goedwerk Foundation can offer the following assistance:

- Information and advice on voluntary return
- Personal attention and a listening ear
- Counseling and coaching
- Assistance in obtaining (source)documents
- Maintaining contact with embassies and consulates
- Guidance and mediations with contacts in the home country
- Financial support for return
- Flight ticket and guidance with departure at Schiphol
- Aftercare and monitoring after return Also a personal route is possible, think of help in setting up an own business, materials needed for study and/or work, vocational training, and help in finding a job or housing in the country of origin.
